02-06 00:11 red_un1387 26694 USR "The shard the shard!" Ayu squeaked as Bevelle picked up the shard, then fell silent as another pretty guardian appeared, this one squiring with ice. He walked up to her and sniffed her shoes, wondering who she was. Hoping Bevelle might know, he looked back at her, wondering what would happen next.

02-06 00:13 aires213 10044 USR Whoot bevelle yelled althea you found a shard, not noticing the pale blue beautiful girl infront of her.

She yelped in surprise who are you!??

02-06 00:15 melodies_ang 9197 USR Bevelle fell silent as the elemental approached. The shard, still 'in' her hands, was jumping around, off balance. It was bitterly cold when it did hit her hand.

The elemental, of which Bevelle could not recall her name, smiled gently. She was probably made well aware that we would be chucking, she appeared to be gentle. The ice wielder looked at the ones calling her "shard" and chuckled, shaking her head. Snow drifted as she moved.

02-06 00:17 Clover Rabbit 9793 USR Raven tilted her head. "So, it's not your shard? Then... Is it what's making it so cold in here?" she asked, looking embarrassed. "Sorry for calling it a shard in that case," she added sheepishly. She had thought that that was what it was called. Guess not.

02-06 00:21 melodies_ang 9198 USR Bevelle stared at Raven and shook her head. "Shes...the elemental of ice, Raven. I think shes been waiting for us."

The look on the elemental was soft.

02-06 00:23 red_un1387 26694 USR Confused now, Ayu looked back up at the ice guardian and asked timidly, "Why have you come? What's going to happen?" Nothing seemed to make sense anymore, and Ayu just wanted to get all the facts straight. Perhaps this guardian could help them look for the other shards too! Eyes wide, he asked one last question, "Can you help us look for the other 3 shards please?"

02-06 00:24 aires213 10045 USR Althea spoke to the ice elemental hello what is you name and have you been waiting for us?

Is there something we must do?

02-06 00:24 melodies_ang 9199 USR The elemental of ice continued to look upon the strangers. Smiling slightly she nodded. "Well, what do we have here?" She eyed the shard, still rotating between Bevelles hands and the air above her hands. Deciding it may not be best to hold them up, she approached Bevelle gracefully and touched the shard. Before anyone could analyze what had happened, the female was gone. The shard, once so cold and unstable, was now fine to hold. As she whispered "thankyou", she looked back on the exit and made her way down the waterfall carrying as many as she could and through the bridge. "3 shards left" was all the guardian of time had managed to say.

((and our elemental of ice will be oneof the ones given away at the end. Keep on RPing^^))

02-06 00:25 Rainfire 3176 USR ((A little late...xD)) Saria walked over, surprised at the appearance of the Ice Elemental. She loved all of the different shades of blue in the room, and the way the snow glittered as it swirled around was beautiful, and this Ice Elemental just appeared out of the blue. She wasn't quite sure what had just happened, but she took it in stride, "So off to the other rooms then?" she asked Bevelle...

Cleo smiled and shared a little as the Ice Elemental's wind came near, but then straightened and looked at Crow. "Woo! I was not expecting that... Are all of the little snowflakes going to become rabbits now?" She giggled, everything about this room turned into something else...

02-06 00:26 Clover Rabbit 9799 USR "Oh," Raven said after a moment. "So that's why it's so cold in here." She slid her wings tighter onto her back. "Nice to meet you then," she said, smiling at the Ice Elemental. She felt happy that she met a guardian. No, elemental. She smiled and then thought of Cleo. "Um, how do you stay warm in this climate? My friend isn't used to the cold you see..." she said, thinking the Ice Elemental would know. She then realized that she was gone. "Oh, I was babbling to nobody again..."

Crow grinned. "I highly doubt that."

02-06 00:26 red_un1387 26696 USR The ice girl disappeared suddenly, before anyone's questions were answered! Sighing, Ayu realized they were going to have to do this by themselves, with no hints. Following Bevelle back down the mountain and across the bridge, he looked around, hoping to see what another shard might lie.

02-06 00:27 aires213 10046 USR Althea shocked again that the ice elemental disappeared and was unable to answer her she helped bevelle with the others and asked what next?

02-06 00:34 melodies_ang 9200 USR ((Sorry!)) Bevelle glanced to the group. "Well, they've given us clear passage, so I don't think they will be upset. The ice elemental, she seemed so calm." Bevelle then thought to herself, "Avoid the area." She went to where she felt she had to go, perhaps silently being guided. She continued, "There are probably more rooms similar to this. We just need to narrow it down." A worried expression on her face, she closed her eyes to try to pick up where they should go.

02-06 00:43 aires213 10047 USR Althea wait to see where bevelle senses tell her to go and see what up next

02-06 00:44 Clover Rabbit 9791 USR Raven tapped Bevelle on the shoulder. "Shouldn't there be a fire one since there was an ice one?" she asked. Her simple mind was something to behold. "And if there is, that means that teh ones are probably all elementally based. Or am I wrong?"

02-06 00:45 Rainfire 3178 USR ((My fault, not yours.)) Saria thought for a moment before looking at the ice under her feet, there was obviously a room down there as the ice glowed unnaturally, "Well that bridge had to come from somewhere..." She said to Crow. "Woo! I was not expecting that... Are all of the little snowflakes going to become rabbits now?" She giggled, everything about this room turned into something else...

02-06 00:45 red_un1387 26697 USR ((aires, from the first page --> 7. 3 sentence minimum (if you are going to RP , please no 'one-liners' .. I want substance)))

02-06 00:50 melodies_ang 9201 USR Bevelle nodded. "Yes, I think these are elemental based. It would make complete sense, dont you think? She chuckled. The ice shard. A fire one...made perfect sense.

At Sarias question, Bevell gently shook her head. "You know id normally love that, but I dont feel any energy coming from downstairs. Not like this, atleast." She frowned as she exited the room.

((plot post coming))

02-06 00:52 animallover1 16522 USR Glow followed Bevelle up, surprised when the ice guardian appeared. She watched the guardian curiously, her nose twitching slightly. They had one shard so far, that was good. They only needed to find three more. Glow knew they could do it. She followed the group out of the room, wondering where they were going to go next. She knew there were lots of other places to look.

02-06 00:52 melodies_ang 9202 USR Being sure to avoid the center room at all costs(she still feared the room, and she still did not know why), Bevelle made her way through another set of stairs and across to another stone door. The ruin inscribed was wet and pitted with an aqua blue type energy. The lights flickering at the sides were under mini waterfalls, more of a green-blue in colour, and had properties of water itself. Mini lights, like blue fireflies and pixi dust flickered and glowed around the edges. As the door opened, Bevelle braced herself for what she would soon see.

"I..dont think this room is for fire", she pondered. But the ice shard pulled her, willing her inside.

02-06 00:55 red_un1387 26700 USR Ayu followed Bevelle to the other door, this one still blue-ish and had water inside. "Bevelle, this room is right, but they hadn't reached that room yet.

02-06 00:55 Clover Rabbit 9792 USR Raven followed Bevelle. "No, I highly doubt that this is the room for fire. Maybe it's the room for water?" she pointed out, rather obviously if I might add. "I wonder what the shard in this room will look like." Raven had figured out when Bevelle felt a pull. She always seemed to look different.

02-06 00:59 Tasmen 4181 USR Lalita wandered toward the group looking at the next room. "I like this room" she said surprising everyone around her. Lalita had been keeping very quiet on this leg of the adventure, but she was excited to maybe see the next elemental. She loved the water and if that's what was in this room she wanted to be first to see it.

02-06 01:03 melodies_ang 9203 USR Dh'lah phased from wall to wall, feeling the presence of something that does not belong. He could not see anything out of the ordinary but noted that the children had one of the 4 shards. On his way, he ran into his twin, who was resting inside the center chamber--their forbidden and very sacred room, reserved for only an elemental. Scott had his eyes closed. He was concentrating, watching the group progress. Sighing, Dh'lah continued to shift from room to room, tensing his body and mentally preparing himself for a potential battle.

Shadows moving, "he" pounced fromside to side, walking inside of them, as slippery as water and as swift as a masters blade. He continued to search, unaware of the twin elementals search of his own. Nonetheless, he pressed on, willing himself to find it. He would conquer it. He would be the guardians and critter in the group and were perfect. An ideal distraction while he gets what he needs. He would find their power, and the blame would fall on them.

02-06 01:05 aires213 10048 USR althea followed bevelle and the others in to the room .

She said bevelle it may not be fire but we may find something here let keep exploring

Althea answered if we ended up here it because maybe the shard pulled you here it only natural i mean you need water to make ice, Maybe we will be going down in temperature for the other shards from cold to hot.

02-06 01:05 Rainfire 3180 USR Saria smiled. "If we have to swim or get wet, I'm in!" She said smiling, water was definitely her thing, she didn't mind the rain and often stayed up late listening to it. She also lived on the inside of a waterfall, she had been swimming since her mentor... Saria stopped and her expression dropped immediately. Her mentor... She covered her sorrow with a quick smile and turned her mind back to the room, wondering what it will look like...

Cleo's shoulders drooped, "Err... water? Like a large body of water?" she immediately sounded worried...

02-06 01:08 animallover1 16523 USR Glow looked in the next room, smiling as she saw the water. She liked this room, it looked peaceful. She walked in hesitantly, not quite sure what to expect. She definitely liked this room more. She went over to the water, sniffing it curiously. She jumped back as some of the water hit her nose. She shook the water off her nose, feeling slightly amused. She looked around the room curiously, lightly touching the water with the tip of her paw.

02-06 01:11 melodies_ang 9204 USR Inside, she walked in to a mossy floor and another enormous waterfall. The walls were a turquoise color, made from stone and were of different graduating shades. Golden accents in ruins were abundant, as were "water" fire-torches and gusts of water from different directions, including parts of the ceiling. The shard, though hard to see, nestled inside of the waterfall as mist from the base vaporized up to the top.

While looking for possible puzzles or obstacles, Bevelle noticed that the edges of one side of the room had little ice crystals and a thin sheet forming, on the other side, little bubbles and steam. Raising her brow and making the connection, she slowly approached the edge of the floor and the base of the waterfall. There were mini islands that looked to be connected to the back edge of the waterfall. Different gusts of water were protecting the entrance to the back of the cave, but it looked to be timed. At the base of the water there were rocks and sand shining through in shades of tan and gold.

02-06 01:11 Clover Rabbit 9793 USR Crow looked at Cleo. "I'll be fine. You do know how to swim, right?" he asked, seeing her worried expression. He had a feeling this guardian didn't like water. Obviously.

02-06 01:15 red_un1387 26701 USR The room was absolutely breathtaking, full of water and steam and moss. Ayu smiled widely, seeing the shard behind the waterfall. Following Bevelle's gaze, he saw she was looking at rocks. He looked at them too, wondering what they would do....then realized they were stepping stones. Scruming up the them, the squirrel peered into the water, hoping he would be able to cross without being swept away in teh current.
