Luna had a both innocent and embarrassed look on her face. "Sorry." She grinned slightly - then looked back to the shard. Lapi also apologized, "Sorry, Bevelle..." Lapi's eyes drifted back to the shard now. The way it looked like a bunch of wind flowing around was so pretty. She moved her eyes away and started eyeing the cavern, adjusting her glasses.

ETA: The kitty is comming with them Assume Kirah didnt hear her)

Echo turned to the other girl [Althea]. "My name is Echo. I came from the east side of the jungle. Who are you? I've never seen any of you before!" She tilted her head curiously. For some reason, she felt less shy towards these people.

As Bevelle stared at the wind shard, it began to topple in an unsteady balance, then it fell into her hands, solidifying.

Bevelle turned to see a faint glimpse of the wind elemental, disappearing into nothingness. Blinking she got up and put all 4 shards together. They were in different shades and textures, had similar jagged oblong edges, and all pulsed with different energies. And she needed to find where the alter was and how to assemble them. She turned to the group for ideas while making her way out of the temple. The group stops near the middle core of the temple.

(( I shall assume that Thankies. ETA: Wow, that Wind Elemental is stunning! My favorite by far!))

Althea ecstatic that she was able to help her friend out again turn to Kirah and said thank you thank you thank you! the other girl echo and said nice to meet you I'm althea we are all here trying to find out the source of a big boom we heard .

Turning back to Kirah she had promise she would not leave her side and also she feared that there was something really wrong for the lightning elemental to be running with such speed she continues and wanted to see what it was .

OCC: To pretty dies lol great work Melody and ace ^^

Luna was shocked that the shard suddenly became solidified and fell into Bevelle's hands. That was odd. She thought - looking up and seeing the small chance of the wind elemental. "Woah." Is all she could say about it. Lapi was pretty happy about getting the 4th and final shard. "We finally have them all together..." She said to herself. The two didn't really have any good ideas of what to do now or where the alter may be - so they followed silently to the middle core of the temple.

Glow caught a slight glimpse of the air elemental, her eyes widening slightly. The elemental had focus on the air elemental more. Oh well, that didn't really matter now. Glow had to hold on to the here and now. She followed Bevelle loyally, not really sure where they were supposed to go. Shards. Glow just got the four shards. Now they just had to figure out exactly what to do with the shards.

(OCC: I absolutely love her. She's my favorite elemental so far, and the ice is my second fav. I love them both, so gorgeous.)

ooc: careful with the god-modding everyone .... don't say that another person's character is doing something that they aren't.

Kirah instinctively phased in front of the middle core. It was impacted it, most sacred of rooms and where she could feel she had to go. As she approached it, it made no noise. Kirah could see the evil coming off of him as he approached their sacred room. As he took a step into the chamber, the twins, together, phased and became visible. One was just in front of Kirah, and the other inside the room blocking the intruders path. Quickly thinking, she wrapped a lightning shield around the ones she phased in and told them to crouch, while running to assist the twins.

As Pudds stood there waiting to see what the girl would say, a strange feeling overcame her body. Her fur began to feel strange, not a bad strange... but different. Suddenly, she realized she wasn't where she had just been. She was inside some strange building with the guardians. She followed Kirah silently as they made their way to the middle core. The fur on her body began to rise as she felt something not right moving towards them. A hiss escaped from her mouth as she crouched down. Just as the strange shadow stood in the entrance of their room, she saw two more guardians, males, phase into the room. She watched as Kirah put some kind of strange shield around them. She nodded when told to stay, but she really couldn't stand to just sit here and watch them... although she knew there was nothing she could do. The cat lowered her head and began to purr as if rooting for the Guardians now in harms way.

Althea reaching the opening was shocked at the sight and how the room looked. She glanced at scott and just put her head down. She looked around to see if she could spot any others of the group, but she could not. So she waited to see what was going on.

mysin wondering what to do next started thinking best she could to try to help bevelle come up with ideas but was mostly coming up short. she turned to the group anyone think of anything?

safalia loved this room this room was neat she thought as she played in the foliage and batted her paw at any thing that moved which was quite alot since it was rather windy. she started singing to herself aimlessly. "fuzzy little bunny rabbits slide down rainbows hop hop hop 123 slide down rainbows with me"

The male could feel resistance as he attempted to go in. Outraged that he had been surprised and by some of the very ones he wished to steal power from, he reached for his sword from his leathers, and flayed it out, charging into the twin blocking his path. Dh'liah's hands began to glow green-blue, followed by the rest of the body. He focused, and with great energy threw the intruder into the back wall, while attempting to paralyze him. A smirk hit his face as he continued to press the male into the wall, "You will not pass!" coming from his lips. The male, trying to resist the pull on him, held his sword across, and deflected an oncoming bolt of white-blue lightning, while using his reflexes to narrowly dodge a burst of flames.

Kirah was as bright as the sun. She ran up to about 7 or 8 feet of him, lodging herself between the group and the intruder. Focusing her energy, she threw big and bright bolts onto him mercilessly pounding bolt after bolt until they got through his defenses. Her necklaces, like it, was also lit up, and her staff flaring by her side. She used her hands to manipulate great arcs while avoiding the group.

Scott was beyond furious. He caught a glimpse of the one he sent out before staring at Kirah. Dropping his thoughts, and alight in fire himself, he focused on the shadow walker and with his hands lit the area of fire, rapidly increasing the temperature in the immediate area. He continually focused on the area, where kirah was standing, it was perfectly cool.

The invader continually fought, breaking Dh'liah's bond and slowly tried to make his way into the area. If he could just get in...

Noticing the group, Dh'liah made a safe passage through the entrance. He caught site of Bevelle and with the glow gone from his hands, touched her forehead, explaining what was happening. He then told her to get the group out to safety.

Kirah was slowly getting tired, but she knew that she had to keep up. The male must have had a magical resistance against their element. The bird flew above her, unable to help but free her arms.

((I'll be out for 30-45 minutes. The sword is one of the new items for the guardians^^ I'll be back soon, keep on rping <3>)) mysin saw what was happening and turned to bevelle what do we do? can we help? we cant just stand here and do nothing?

behind the commotion one could hear a faint singing: safalia : "fuzzy little kitty cats slide down rainbows pounce pounce pounce 123 slide down rainbows with me"

((On I do love him! He's amazing!))

Pudds was trembling now... she had never seen anything like these Guardians before. What strange and magnificent powers they possessed! As she watched the fight taking place, she noticed another group gain safe entry to their room. One of the guardians went up to the leader of the new group... what had he told her? Pudds couldn't take it anymore, she saw the girl that had phased them here getting tired as the bird took flight. There must be something a cat could do to help. She crept away from the shield and began to sink silently along the outer-wall, trying to form a plan. As she slunk along the wall towards the new group, her ears picked up a sound... a song...? "fuzzy little kitty cats slide down rainbows pounce pounce pounce 123 slide down rainbows with me" Rainbows? The cat shook her head and crept along silently, hoping to join the new group. There is safety in numbers.

[[I seem to be a little bit lost...can someone update me, in detail? XD]]

((ooc: safalia is my guardians companion lol shes a cat but smaller in size and very unin...random? ))

Glow pricked her ears, hearing a commotion. She stayed near Bevelle, not sure what she was hearing. When she saw the others she tensed. She recognized three of the elementals, but who was that new person? She didn't like the looks of things. She looked up at Bevelle, wondering what was going on. She knew one thing for sure, they needed to hurry up and take care of the shards. Glow just exactly sure what the shards did, but she knew they helped. She wanted to hurry, she didn't want to see anything bad happen to the elementals.

Lapi's eyes widened when she caught a glimpse of the situation the elementals were in. What do we do? She thought to herself, then looked at Bevelle. Could the shards possibly help? Since they did belong to a guardian of different elements. Though - she wasn't sure if the elementals would possibly help them...? Still - she had to try. "Bevelle? Do you think the elements of those shards... could possibly help them...?" She gulped - not sure if it was a good idea or not. Luna looked in the direction of the fighting, and started to panic slightly.

Ginger, who had been following quietly with the group, gasped at the sight of the air elemental. She was astounded by her wings, which were clear and pale. When they saw the male appearing outside, she also gasped. He is a scary one, she thought. She was truly afraid of him.

Artemis and Spirit, who had gone into the pack again, cowered at the sight of him. Artemis because he was afraid, but Spirit because she could sense auras. And this aura was messing up her entire day. He truly scared her. She slinked down deeper into the pack after seeing him for only a few seconds.

Thalia jumped from the back of the group, wedging her shield that came out of her bracelet. She was ready to defend to the death from this strange newcomer. She was scared, and she knew it. But she didn't want to show it. She leaped into a defence stance in front of the group, letting out a fierce battle cry. She was trained to handle these situations carefully, and she was doing a swell job.

((I will be gone during the Super Bowl, I'm watching the funny commercials ))

OCC: that new guy is so smexy ^^

Althea felt hopeless seen all that was happening before her. She wanted to help scott but what could she do she was no elemental, she had powers but they were no where near strong enough to help all she could do was tear up again.

She notice bevelle and the group now and how the other twin went and told her something, she didn't know what to do she was told to stay there and had promise to stay by Kirah.

Althea was all confused and could not think of anything else to do but break down and cry.

safalia fially coming out of the room to see what the others were doing she didnt like what she saw it scared her. so she decided to try to stay out of the way, when something caught her eye, it was something small and shiny over by one of the walls she ran over to see it she loved shiny things.

((Safalia is absolutely adorable!))

As Pudds slunk along the wall, she realized that the song had stopped. "What a strange song that was..." She noticed something break away from the group and run along the wall... what in the world was it doing? Didn't it know this was a dangerous situation? Of course, she had also left the place of safety she had been told to stay at so she couldn't really complain. She walked up her pace and ran towards the other hoping to get some info and maybe even figure out a way to help.

((He *is* smexy! And he will be reformed...even if he ends up differently here ))

Let em catch up and ill respond We are almost at the end^^

Immediatly-((Eh, I've seen smexier Like Keith in my school. Now THERE is a smexy hunk of man. Sorry... I should shut up now )) mysin looked around wondering were safalia had gone to and hoping were ever that was she was safe and away from the fighting. mysin turned and watched hoping she could figure out what she to do.

In the background one could hear a slight "tink tink tink" safalia was tinkering around the shiny object it was fun and it made a realy cool sound. "tink tink tink" safalia began singing her song again "fuzzy little bunny rabbits slide down rainbows hop hop hop 123 slide down rainbows with me."

As Pudds get closer to the stray group member, she realized it was another cat... playing with a small, shiny object. The cat began singing again. This time, the song was about rabbits. What a strange little kitty this one was. Pudds seemed loudly, trying to get the attention of the other cat. "Excuse me...erm... cat that loves to sing. Do you know what is going on here?"
